6.2.3. You acknowledge that we may need to cancel your contract in accordance with clause 10.1.6 if there is insufficient take up or if we are unable to provide the Services to you on terms which are commercially reasonable to us in accordance with clause 10.1.7.

Provided we do this we will not be liable for delays caused by the event.

6.4. If you do not allow us access to provide Services. If you have asked us to provide the Services to you at your property and you do not allow us access to your property as arranged (and you do not have a good reason for this) we may charge you additional costs incurred by us as a result. If, despite our reasonable efforts, we are unable to contact you or re-arrange access to your property we may end the contract and clause 10.1 will apply.

6.5. What will happen if you do not provide the required information to us? We will need certain information from you so that we can provide the Services to you, for example, your address and Location of installation. We will contact you to ask for this information. If you do not, within a reasonable time of us asking for it, provide us with this information, or you provide us with incomplete or incorrect information, we may either end the contract (see clause 10.1) or make an additional charge of a reasonable sum to compensate us for any extra work that is required as a result. We will not be responsible for providing the Services late or not providing any part of them if this is caused by you not giving us the information we need within a reasonable time of us asking for it.

6.6. Reasons we may suspend the Services. We may have to suspend the Services to:

Once we have provided an installation date, any request by you for us to delay or split delivery may result in additional costs incurred by us and such costs shall be notified to you in advance.

6.11. Pre-proving ahead of installation. When you've booked an installation, we may visit your property up to 2 weeks before the installation date, to complete pre proving of the network infrastructure to your home, to ensure we're able to complete your installation on the day we agreed with you. We also refer to this as pre-enablement. The engineer may be a contractor, working on behalf of Truespeed or a member of our own team, but either will have Truespeed ID for identification. They may need to complete works on your property ahead of your installation, but no work will be carried out without your express permission to do so. By placing an order with Truespeed for services, you agree to allowing Truespeed access to inspect any poles or ducting leading up to your property to allow us to complete this activity and confirm if any additional works are required to get you installed. See clause 18.3.

6.12. What happens if I move house? If you move house during the minimum term, to an area within the Truespeed planned service area, you may move your contract subject to the following conditions:

6.12.1. You must give us 30 days notice of your intended move out date.

6.12.2. If you move to a property with an existing Truespeed connection, you may move your existing contract to the new property. You may be subject to an installation fee which we will tell you about when you contact us to tell us about your move. By moving your contract, we'll need to end your current one and restart a new contract at your new property.

6.12.3. If you move to an area where Truespeed provide services but the property is not currently connected to our network, then you may ask us to connect your property to our network. You may be charged our standard installation fee and may be subject to excess installation fees and we will tell you about these when you contact us to tell us about your move. We will waive any exit fees, providing you sign up your new property within 30 days of confirming your move out date.

6.13.2. If you're outside of the minimum term, you must provide us 30 days notification of your cancellation, but you will not be subject to an early termination charge.

6.13.3. If you are on a no-contract product, you must provide us 30 days notification of your cancellation, but you will not be subject to any termination charges.

6.14. Planned outages. We are occasionally required to perform planned outages in order to carry out necessary maintenance and support work. We will endeavor to schedule Planned Outages in a way which minimizes disruption for example, carrying out work in the early hours of the morning. We shall also endeavor to notify you of any Planned Outages at least five days prior to such work being carried out, although you accept that due to the nature of the Services, this may not always be possible.

6.15. UPS (Battery Back Up Devices). As your phone uses your broadband to make calls, your phone may not work if there is a power outage. We can provide an uninterruptable power supply, known as a "UPS" device or battery back-up, to you which will power your phone for a short time following a power outage.

6.16.1 We may be able to provide the UPS to you free of charge in certain circumstances. For example, if you rely on your landline service due to disability, have accessibility requirements or have medical devices connected to your landline service. Please contact us to discuss whether we can provide the UPS to you free of charge.

6.16.2. We offer the UPS device to all customers. If you don't meet our eligibility criteria for a free UPS device, then please contact us to discuss your requirements and our prices.

6.16.3. The UPS device will continue to power your phone for approximately 1 hour in the event of a power outage to your property. To ensure your UPS functions correctly, only the Truespeed router and optical network terminal should be plugged into your UPS. Using the UPS to power any unauthorised devices may shorten its battery life and the time you have to make calls in the event of a power outage.

6.16.4. Cordless phones may not be suitable and you should have a corded phone for use with the UPS. It is your responsibility to ensure your landline phone is compatible with the UPS. Please refer to your landline phones user guide for more information.

6.16.5. The UPS is provided so that you are able to make emergency phone calls in the event of a power outage. The UPS is not designed or intended to be used for streaming, gaming and downloading content from the internet. If the UPS device is used for these purposes it will significantly reduce its battery life. It should only be used to make emergency calls

6.16.6 We cannot be responsible nor liable to you if fail to follow our instructions for the storage, installation, use and maintenance of the UPS.

6.16.5. The UPS belongs to us and should be returned along with all other equipment at the end of the contract in accordance with clause 9.10.

6.16.6 If you move house or your circumstances change then please contact us to see if you qualify for a free UPS device.

6.17. Force Majeure. We are not liable for events out of our control that may disrupt service such as storms, floods, acts of terrorism, etc. We will endeavour to inform you and restore service as quickly as possible in these circumstances.

6.18. When you become responsible for the Equipment. Equipment will be your responsibility from the time we deliver the product to the address you gave us.

7. YOUR OBLIGATIONS

7.1. What you agree to. You agree to only use the Services for lawful purposes as defined in the Telecommunications Act of 2003 and its successors and you shall always comply with our Acceptable User Policy. This means that you are responsible for the use of your Equipment and Services which shall only be used for personal, non-business use. You will not: use the Equipment or Service for any purpose that may be illegal, fraudulent, a nuisance or abusive; do anything that causes our network to be impaired; use automated means to make calls, texts or send data. You acknowledge that a copyright owner's permission is required to download copyrighted content.

7.2. You must keep your passwords secure. You must take reasonable steps to keep all passwords issued to you by us private and confidential. If unauthorised persons become aware of the password, you will inform us immediately so that appropriate security measures can be taken. Only give your password to people if you are happy for them to use your account and add charges on to your account.

7.3. You are liable for all charges on your account. You agree that you are liable for charges on your account regardless of whether you or other persons (authorised or unauthorised) run up those charges (unless the charges result from fraud by someone else which you could not have reasonably prevented). For example, if someone who has access to your home uses the Services such as telephone, we would consider such persons to be within your control and you would be liable for those charges.

7.4. You are liable for 3rd party charges. You are liable for any 3rd party charges that you incur whilst using our Services, such as premium rate phone numbers or content providers.

7.5. We maintain ownership of IP Addresses. Any Internet Addresses (IP Addresses) assigned to you remain our property. You may not sell or transfer the IP address to another party. If this agreement is terminated for any reason, we will reclaim any IP addresses assigned to you and you will be unable to use them.

7.6. The Service is for your use only. You may not sell, resell or transfer the Services.

7.7. What to do if you become aware of fraud? If you become aware of any fraud in respect of the use of the Services you must notify us immediately.

8. USING OUR SERVICES

8.1. Internet speed guarantee. We guarantee the speed you will receive on the network that we own and manage. Your internet speeds are measured at the point of entry to your router.

8.2. What we cannot guarantee. We guarantee the speed you receive at the point of entry to your router however this does not guarantee you a fault free performance. Once our Service is supplied to your premises the speed that you experience will vary depending on factors outside our control including the devices you are using, your Wi-Fi signal, the circumstances of your property, and access to third party sites, service and content. For instance, the location of your router, thickness of walls and other electrical equipment can have an impact on Wi-Fi strength. Depending on the size and set up of your home, you may benefit from our Mesh WiFi System. For individual devices, please refer to the manufacturer's information to understand the maximum speeds which it can achieve through the use of Wi-Fi. Due to the inherent nature of the Internet, we cannot guarantee specific levels of performance or speed to other networks or websites.

8.3. We cannot guarantee the Service will be fault-free. We strive to reach a 100% availability target however this is an aim and not a guarantee.

8.4. We may control your data usage. We reserve the right to monitor and control data volumes and types of traffic transmitted over the Services. In the event that you do not comply with our terms and conditions (including but not limited to our Acceptable Use Policy), we reserve the right to reduce, suspend or terminate your access to the Services.

8.5. We do not guarantee that maximum transmission speeds can be obtained at any particular time over our network. Unlike traditional DSL, where your line speed may vary depending on a number of factors, traffic on your Truespeed line will always be the speed you have purchased. However, in line with industry standards, we engineer our network to take advantage of the fact that we do not expect every customer to use 100% of their capacity all of the time. At peak usage times, you may experience a small amount of congestion on the network as a result. We monitor our network closely and will endeavour to minimise congestion where and when necessary

8.6. You must keep our Equipment in good physical condition. You are responsible for keeping in good order any Equipment on your property, including the Network Termination Equipment (NTE) and the fibre optic cable. You must inform us of any damage caused by you, including any damage or cuts to Truespeed's network that traverses your property. Any outages to your Service caused by you will not be subject to Truespeed's service refund policy (clause 12).

8.7. If you are a business, you are not entitled to take a Service which is for residential customers. If we discover that you are not a consumer, we will notify you of the nearest equivalent business package and we shall have the right to end your contract if you do not agree to transfer to that package.

9. YOUR RIGHTS TO END THE CONTRACT

9.1. What happens if you have good reason for ending the contract? If you are ending the contract for a reason set out at (9.1.1) to (9.1.6) below, the contract will end immediately and we will refund you in full for any Services which have not been provided. The relevant reasons are:

9.1.1. we have made a change to these terms and conditions that leaves you materially disadvantaged (see clause 5.2).

9.1.2. we have told you about an error in the price or description of the Services or Equipment you have ordered and you do not wish to proceed;

9.1.3. we have given you a price for standard installation plus excess installation charge with which you do not agree and which means you do not wish to proceed with the installation;

9.1.4. there is a risk the Services may be significantly delayed because of events outside our control;

9.1.5. we suspend the Services for technical reasons, or notify you that we are going to suspend them for technical reasons, in each case for a period of more than 30 days; or

9.1.6. you have a legal right to end the contract because what you have bought is faulty or misdescribed or we have not met our contractual obligations to you

9.2. Exercising your right to change your mind (Consumer Contracts Regulations 2013). For Services bought at a distance, you have a legal right to change your mind within 14 days and receive a refund. These rights, under the Consumer Contracts Regulations 2013, are explained in more detail in these terms.

9.3. How long do I have to change my mind? Where you have purchased Services, you have 14 days after the day we will write to you to confirm we accept your order. If you cancel after we have started providing the Services (including any installation Services), you must pay us for the Services provided up until the time you tell us that you have changed your mind.

9.4 30 Day Money Back Guarantee.

9.4.1 If you have purchased a residential product, in addition to your statutory rights under clause 9.2 and 9.3 above, you will have the right to change your mind and cancel your service up to 30 days from the date your service goes live. Our 30 Day Money Back Guarantee means, if you choose to cancel before your 30 days is up, we will return any charges you incurred for broadband usage from the date your connection went live to the date your cancellation is confirmed. Any telephony charges for this period will still be charged and are not included as part of the 30 Day Money Back Guarantee. You can cancel your service by calling our Customer Service team on 01225 300 370.

9.4.2 If you're an existing customer, the 30 Day Money Back Guarantee does not apply to any additional products you purchase or chose to upgrade to during your contract, i.e phone packages and our Mesh Wi-Fi System.

9.5 Deductions from refunds. If you are exercising your right to change your mind within the 14 day period as per clause 9.2 and 9.3, but after an installation has occurred we may deduct from any refund an amount for the installation and for the supply of the Service for the period for which it was supplied. This doesn't apply if you are part of the 30 Day Money Back Guarantee as outlined in clause 9.4.

9.6. When your refund will be made. We will make any refunds due to you as soon as possible. If you are exercising your right to change your mind then your refund will be made within 14 days of you telling us you have changed your mind.

9.7. Cancelling the contract after the minimum term has expired. You may cancel the contract anytime after the minimum term has expired; however, you must give us 30 days notice of your intention to cancel.

9.8. Cancelling the contract during the minimum term where we are not at fault, and there is no right to change your mind. Even if we are not at fault and you do not have a right to change your mind, you can still end the contract during the minimum term but you will have to pay us compensation by way of an early termination charge. The contract will end 30 days after you notify us that you wish it to end and we will refund any sums paid by you for Services not provided but we may deduct from that refund (or, if you have not made an advance payment, charge you in proportion to the amount of time you have left in your minimum term). The early termination charge is based on the monthly charge for the Service and the remaining period of your minimum term. Information about how to cancel your contract and calculate your early termination charge is in the Customer Support section of our website.

9.9. How to end the contract with us. If we fail to comply with these terms, we are responsible for loss or damage you suffer that is a foreseeable result of our breaking this contract or our failing to use reasonable care and skill, but we are not responsible for any loss or damage that is not foreseeable. Loss or damage is foreseeable if either it is obvious that it will happen or if, at the time the contract was made, both we and you knew it might happen, for example, if you discussed it with us during the sales process.

15.2. When we are liable for damage to your property. If we are providing Services in your property, we will make good any damage to your property caused by us while doing so, except where such damage is made clear to you, or otherwise reasonably foreseeable, as a requirement of our providing the Services (including any installation Services). 17.2. Nobody else has any rights under this contract. This contract is between you and us. No other person shall have any rights to enforce any of its terms.

17.3. If a court finds part of this contract illegal, the rest will continue in force. Each of the paragraphs of these terms operates separately. If any court or relevant authority decides that any of them are unlawful, the remaining paragraphs will remain in full force and effect.

17.4. Even if we delay in enforcing this contract, we can still enforce it later. If we do not insist immediately that you do anything you are required to do under these terms, or if we delay in taking steps against you in respect of your breaking this contract that will not mean that you do not have to do those things or prevent us taking steps against you at a later date. For example, if you miss a payment and we do not chase you but we continue to provide the Services, we can still require you to make the payment at a later date.

17.5. Which laws apply to this contract and where you may bring legal proceedings. These terms are governed by English law and you can bring legal proceedings in respect of the Services in the English courts.

17.6. Your existing Telecommunications connection. You may have existing contracts for telecommunications services (i.e. line rental, or calls, or broadband) with your old service providers, which have minimum service periods in them. You are responsible for checking any such contracts and for paying for any ongoing charges or charges on termination that you may have to pay to your old service provider. The land owner does not need to be present during any pre-proving activity. By entering into a contract with us for Services, you confirm that you provide or have obtained such consent. This consent is not for the sole and exclusive service to your property and can be utilised by Truespeed to serve surrounding properties.

18.5. There must be someone over the age of 18 who is authorised to make decisions on your behalf, physically present during installation. If the installation engineer shows up and is unable to gain access to the property at the agreed upon time, you may be charged a subsequent call out fee of E50 and will be required to contact Truespeed to reschedule your installation.
